. Daytrip to Castiglione di Sicilia and Gole Alcantara, the Sicilian version of the Grand Canyon.

Gole Alcantara ,this river brings the snow water down from the Etna Volcano (3,300 meters/10,000 feet) to Fuimefreddo and has fast running ice cold water with amazing views of nature.

Castiglione di Sicilia is one of the most beautiful medieval villages in Italy. Walk around the old center on top and visit the castle, you will feel as if you have been time transported into the 15th century. On Wednesdays there is an open air market in the morning, worth visiting. There are famous wine bars all along the city where you can drink the local Etna wines.

.Daytrip to Syracuse and Ortigia

Ortigia is the old harbour and one of the first settlements of the Greeks. It is very touristic, but worth the visit. It is about 1,30 hrs drive from the villa. Nearby are also Greek settlements (Dionysus ear) worth visiting. The evening time is very nice as there are many touristic activities, arts and crafts in the streets and lots of good Sicilian restaurants. During summer there are plenty of concerts, opera, in this open air Greek theatre. Check the internet for programs and tickets before you come, as they are often sold out long before.

.Daytrip to Catania

Catania is one of the most beautiful big cities on the island. Lots of ancient history, great architecture, good food and party night life. Go to the fish market in the morning.

. And of course you can't miss a daytrip to Etna Volcano, the most active volcano in the world

Circumetnea sicily

An unconventional way to visit one of the Sicilian symbol: Mount Etna. The historic railway was inaugurated in 1898 and it travel around the volcano passing through many villages, offering to its travelers picturesque glimpses of this unique view.

.Daytrip to Taormina and Castelmola

The most touristic/expensive place in Sicily worth a day visit. Greek theatre, great shopping, nice ambiance. Good night life with night bars and disco.

Castelmola, a little town, less touristic but very nice.

.Daytrip sailing tour and dolphin watching

.Daytrip Snorkeling tour at Nike diving center

This experienced diving school takes you out in front of the coast of Taormina and Isola Bella. Unique location and coral reefs.

It would be amazing to be able to have you here and to make your retreat an unforgettable one.

Yours Sincerely
